

Anatomy & Physiology Educational Classes Customized for the Bowenwork™ Practitioner

Accepted by The United States Bowen Registry

Bowenworks of Cincinnati

Nancee Rogers, BS, LMT is a graduate of Heidelberg College and SHI Medical Massage School. She also did two years of postgraduate work at The Ohio State University College of Medicine. A Professional Bowenwork™ Practitioner, she owns BowenWorks of Cincinnati, where she teaches online anatomy classes and maintains a private practice.

Nancee also is an instructor of Anatomy and Physiology plus Medical Terminology at Gateway Community and Technical College.

CLASS DESCRIPTION

Surface Anatomy to Improve your Bowenwork Technique

Not 100% sure of your anatomy as you do Bowenwork moves? Become more confident as you spend time reviewing in detail some of the more challenging areas for moves including Hit the Lat, Lower Back 5&7, Neck & Shoulder 3&4, Coccyx, Respiratory 4-6, and all of Upper Respiratory - TMJ. This session includes a series of a short lecture followed by ample time for supervised palpation of each area.

This session can be used towards completion of the USBR 100 hour A&P requirement. However, all are welcome to join in!

Anatomy and Physiology courses

Advanced Muscle & Surface Anatomy course

Advanced Muscle & Palpation of Surface Anatomy Seminar

All enquiries:

Nancee Rogers

6730 Main St Newtown, OH 45244

Telephone: 513-527-4540 Email: anatomy@bowenworkscincy.com

For more information, visit www.bowenworkscincy.com